What is Supportive Counseling?

In churches, marriages and families, people often face real problems and difficulties. Often we want to help but do not know how. This training in Supportive Counseling will help you know how to support people through the many different situations they experience in their marriages, families and life situation.

Supportive Counselors give encouragement and advice to help people find solutions for life problems. This is an outstanding tool for the church's ministry to her own members and the wider community for leading the counselee into personal reflection, a new self understanding and the discovery of new paths for resolving even long term, difficult problems.

Who is this for?

This training is designed for any church member or church worker who has a desire to become involved in counseling. No previous formal training in counseling is required. At the same time, the class is also for those who have had counseling experience and would like to further develop their ability.

The class is specially prepared for the north Indian context, with teaching and materials fully translated into both English and Hindi.

What does the course involve?

There are five weeks of classes. The classes involve teaching and practical sessions. One of the unique aspects of the class is the opportunity to be counseled by a qualified counselor.

On successful completion of the course the ICL Certificate in Supportive Counseling will be awarded.

Who will teach and run the course?

The class teacher is a highly experienced counseling instructor from the internationally renowned Institute for Christian Life and Marriage Counseling (ICL) in Germany.

She is accompanied by a team of ICL qualified counselors who fully participate in the class supervision and provide personal counseling sessions for all of the class participants.

Participants testimony

"I'm so happy I could attend this course. It's so precious; it is just like medicine for my soul. I learned how my lifestyle and my values influence my thinking and acting."

Rajesh

We are very thankful that we can attend this training course. The life style aspects are a very helpful instrument to better understand ourselves and others and the way they act and believe.

*Nigina,
Wladimir & Firuza*

"I studied six years of Psychology and Counseling. However, this course is very practically oriented and one of the best things I have seen in this area."

Rafiel, Psychologist
